The Story of Ivan Spriggs

IT has been three years since Ivan Spriggs was stricken with that dreadful disease, infantile paralysis, and left a helpless cripple.

For a time Ivan wasn't able to get about at all. Then by sheer pluck the lad started crawling along the floor. Hard work, but Ivan was game. In three years' time he has come to the place where he can walk about on his hands and feet—like a dog!

Suppose he were your own boy, or your own little brother! You would do everything in your power for him, wouldn't you?
* * *

Ivan is the fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Spriggs who live out in Jefferson Township. If you have a little time drive out the Mabees Pike past Gilliland's Store. Turn to the left there, and half a mile between the Mabee Pike and the Oak Hill Pike you will find Ivan's home.

It's only a ram-shackle, clapboard hut, scarcely what you would say, for a barn. But it is home to Mr. and Mrs. Spriggs and their six children. Ivan is six years old. Belle is 13, Eugene is 10, Catherine is 7, then comes Ivan, then Ilene, aged 5, and the youngest is Lessie, aged 3.
